of Captain Peabody, of the Frigate—Further Examination
messes.

An investigation of this case was resumed at the United States Commissioner's office, messenger Silwell. Mr. Bell conducted the cause and Mr. Beebe defended Captain Peabody, a colored seaman, who had been previously recalled on the part of the prosecution, when we were about five days out from Liverpool.

Richards struck by the captain two three at the main brace while pulling on it, with that looked like a cowhide; Richards was at the main brace at the same time with the third time was three or four days after when Richards was at the wheel with me; he was at the helm on the deck; the man came running up; the captain said "There was no harm done; send to the cabin to me;" the mate went bold him to get up and go down in the Richards was hobbling along the mate came back to me and said "I am not safe; I am to be taken down to the cabin; there were places skin was off his hands, and he was laid up mained—I have been with the captain before; but that it was not the routine to strike the hands with; whatever it is that I know the captain some hard cut with the butt end of it; Richards all most of the time; exposure will bring on salt water bottle; the crew were a bad set of scurvy, but they would have been better if the captain had not been so hard on them; he had a house with shavings on the dock to go to; I heard Richards say that he is a pair of pantaloons; the captain gave some of the other men; I saw some of the men wash the clothes in the water; the Richards had a hard winter when he first got out, but he lost it, and wore a comforter until gave him a son's winter; the watch I was in about half past one in the morning; I was a weather wheel; Richards was at the other helm; he struck the ropes; I asked whether at the time or not I can say; I awoke up sleeping and nudged him; it was a dangerous sleep in; we were right abreast of each other; over the wheel, but did not approach; it was dark; cannot say whether the mate to jump overboard; the mate, some noise I heard; I had the right; the captain got on deck; I told the captain I man was asleep.

I was a passenger on board; I know the captain; the witness went to the ship; the captain, on the strength of the number rushing through a crowd of men on Richards, who was at the pump, on the with a belaying pin; he struck him very hard; he gave him a dozen blows; witness would have killed him; the captain called out "he is a son of a bitch"; he was forehand; he stuck to the ropes but did not as he was not able to do so; on the 25th I saw Richards at the cabin; in reply to the he wanted to see the doctor; the captain struck him with a blow of his hand and caused a cut of a hand; the captain made a Richards got up, when he was knocked with another blow; Richards then got up as aid and made his way to the forecastle by the bulwarks; I saw the captain beat him with a stick in the office of Messrs. Linen Manufacturers, Liverpool, Ireland; I the captain; I was employed to pump; but had a rough passage whether the captain's hand was open or he knocked Richards down the second
